

OSU - ATI
OCFAES /
College of Food, Agricultural and Environmental Sciences
Wooster, OH

- Assistant Professor Chemistry serves as a faculty member at the Agricultural Technical Institute (ATI) within the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences at The Ohio State University, Wooster Ohio.
- Teaching responsibilities include introductory level courses such as, but not limited to, elementary chemistry, general chemistry, and organic chemistry as assigned by the division chair; work closely with the chemistry coordinator to develop course and program curriculum; academic student advising, student recruitment and organizational student development; participation in professional development, scholarly activity and providing leadership/service to the institute, college, university and professional organizations.
- Complete position posting: www.jobsatosu.com/ Requisition # 452727.
- Qualifications: Master's degree in chemistry, or related field and at least five years of industry experience. Application Instructions: Please include the following: 1) letter of interest; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) official transcripts of educational records and transcripts; 4) a list of three professional references qualified to comment on the applicant's knowledge, skills and experiences relevant to the position. Email these materials to Dr. Nathan Crook, Committee Chair, The Ohio State University ATI @crook.55@osu.edu.
- Review of applicants will begin on September 23, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled.
- The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium.

- The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.