

The department of Agricultural Education and Agricultural Sciences at Oregon State University (OSU) invites applications for a full-time (1.0 FTE) instructor position with a focus area in Native American Agriculture. The instructor will provide innovative instruction in our agricultural science courses—coordinating, facilitating, developing, and teaching Native American agriculture courses.

To apply, please submit your application at <https://jobs.oregonstate.edu/postings/104570>, posting #P04634UF. For full consideration, applications must be received by 8/23/2021.

OSU seeks diversity as a source of enrichment for our university community. We are an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, and particularly encourage applications from members of historically underrepresented racial/ethnic groups, women, individuals with disabilities, veterans, LGBTQ+ community members, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community.

Oregon State University in Corvallis, OR is located within the traditional homelands of the Mary's River or Ampinefu Band of Kalapuya. Following the Willamette Valley Treaty of 1855 (Kalapuya etc. Treaty), Kalapuya people were forcibly removed to reservations in Western Oregon. Today, living descendants of these people are a part of the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde Community of Oregon (<https://www.grandronde.org>) and the Confederated Tribes of the Siletz Indians (<https://ctsi.nsn.us>)

Inquires can be sent to me at haley.traini@oregonstate.edu